ITASCA SOFTWARE EDUCATIONAL DISCOUNT AGREEMENT

Itasca's educational discount is available to accredited academic institutes worldwide and is intended to assist college and university instructors who wish to integrate Itasca software into their curriculum. The educational discount is offered on licenses intended for university-based, academic use only. This includes student instruction, graduate thesis research, demonstrations and similar educational activities.

A license receiving the educational discount must not be used for any commercial or revenue-generating purposes, including consulting. Such uses violate the terms of an educational license.

It is Itasca's policy that all licenses have a single-point-of-contact. This means that all queries regarding this license (including technical support questions) must come from the license Contact Person identified below.

By signing this agreement, the License Contact agrees to the limitations outlined above and agrees to be responsible for the use of the software by all employees, students and staff of the educational institute under which this license is registered as outlined below.
